THIS WATER MAN TWIXT TWO FIRES

Woes of Engineer Who Controls Mississippi's Flow.

TARGET OF CONSTANT KICKS

If River Rises Farmers Howl, if It Goes Down Mill Men Growl.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 10 .- "These dam kickers are worrying me more than yellow fever is worrying the Panama Canal Board!" said Major George Derby, chief of the corps of the United States engineers, when he had politely escorted a band of farmers from his office in the Federal building in this city and locked the door so that he might think uninterruptedly.

noun sounded like an adjective in this ponderous and thankless task of some of the big shorts. regulating the flow of the Mississippi

Increased there are complaints of inundated land. If the flow is decreased of water power. If the river below St. Paul is made to fill its banks the upper river farmers declare there is not enough water for navigation at St. Paul. And New Orleans excited.

Floods Make Trouble.

The recent heavy rainfall which has filled the huge reservoirs near the head 11.19, later selling at 11.22. waters of the Mississippi has added to the trials and tribulations of Major Derby, and has kept him in a dilemma that would send any ordinary man to the padded cell. A few days ago the proprietors of a big paper mill, operated at Grand Rapids by water power, were clamoring for more water. Investigation by engineers proved that there was a scarcity which was hampering the industry, and so more water was admitted to the stream.

Next morning, when Major Derby arrived at his office, he found his desk covered with letters and telegrams, among them being these three from At-

"Mississippi raising hell. Farmers drowned out. Can't you do something?
"A. L. HAMILTON." Close the dams. Planted lands along the Mississippi under water.
"FIRST NATIONAL BANK."

"Thousands of acres along the Mississippi inundated. Farms abandoned. Take action quick."

"J. A. DANEWICK."

Manages River Like a Child.

Under normal conditions the flow of the Mississippi is in the hands of Major Derby, who, sitting in his office in St. Paul and acting on reports submitted to him by Federal inspectors all along the main river and tributaries, manages the father of waters as a father would manage his child. But in doing so he more than strive to please so The reservoirs are for seven different interests which often conflict. These are steamboat navigation below St. Paul; steamboat navigation above St Paul; logging mills at Minneapolis; mills above Minneapolis; riparian owners on the river and riparian owners on the reservoirs. It is impossible to so manage the reservoirs as to suit all concerned, because each party minimizes or ignores entirely the interests of all others.

Wonderful System of Reservoirs.

reservoirs have proved to be a great benefit to steamboat navigation. Without the reservoirs the discharge of the river at St. Paul is liable to fall to 1,500 cubic feet a second, as it has in the past, while with the reservoirs the dispast, while with the reservoirs the discharge is held throughout the navigation season at or above 4,000 cubic feet. The benefit to steamboat navigation at and below St. Paul is manifest from these forms.

benefit to steamboat navigation at and below St. Paul is manifest from these figures.

Through June the great storage reservoirs in the northern part of the State remain practically closed. As a result these reservoirs have caught the great flood of the upper Mississippi, and the high condition of the river has been due imply to the water which has drained in below the great dams. If July, however, gets the Lame downpours that 15 me did the reservoirs will be unable to head the floor waters which will rush the stream in an u.c. trained deluge. Reports received at t. c. eagineer's office indicate that the grea. Wilmibigashish reservoir is now closed and full. Its especity is 7,090,090,000 cubic feet. Leach Lake reservoir capacity s 22,000,000,000 cubic feet. Leach Lake reservoir has reached its limit, 2,000,000 cubic feet. Leach Lake reservoir has reached its limit, 2,000,000 cubic feet. The Pine River reservoir dam is beling rebuilt, so, instead of holding 8,000,000,000 cubic feet.

LOCOMOTIVE CONTRACTS AWARDED TO GERMANY

Underbid American Manufacturers on Engines for South America and Asia.

BERLIN, July 10 .- Orders, to the amount of $5,000,000, have been received by the German Locomotive Works for locomotives to be used in South Amer-ica and Asia. The contracts provide that the engines must be delivered be-fore the end of the present year.

Several American firms bid for these centracts. The German works underbid them and captured the awards.

Experiments are being made on the state railways in Prussia with German locomotives of high speed. The new engines are designed to maintain an average speed of seventy-five miles an hour on long hauls.
